

HONORABLE MENTION

THE BRIDGEWATER CLUB

Carmel, Ind.

Owner: Gregg Throgmartin and Mike Gardner

Clubhouse architect: S. Vic Jones & Associates

Interior design: Parini

Contractor: Commercial Contractors

Cost: Undisclosed

The vision for this remodel was to reinvigorate all aspects of the property in order to increase members' use and enjoyment of all the club's amenities, said Mike Gardner, general manager and chief operating officer.

The design centered on the club's proudest and most notable features: the 18-hole championship golf course and 9-hole executive course designed by the legendary golf course architect Pete Dye.

The Zinc bar is among the crowning achievements of the makeover. The dining and bar area has been transformed from a dark, traditional space with only a handful of seats to a vibrant and convivial space perfect for a social lunch or an evening gathering.

Since the remodel, the club has seen a 40% increase in this demographic joining as members.

ABOUT THE JUDGES

MARK MELZER, AIA, LEED

AP, is chairman of MDR Architects & Planners, which specializes in clubhouse, resort and hospitality projects worldwide. He serves on AIA California's Committee on the Environment. His firm's core values stem from a sustainable, regenerative and net-zero energy approach to its designs.

BILL LANGLEY has been the general manager and chief operating officer at the Club at Quail Ridge in Boynton Beach, Fla., since August of 2013. His career in the club industry spans 39 years. He is dedicated to giving back to the industry through service and mentorship.

RON CUTLIP of Cutlip Golf

Design focuses on course design, construction and development. His work has been featured on CNN, as well as in the USGA Golf Journal and in Sports Illustrated. Prior to the formation of Cutlip Golf Design, he was a senior designer in land planning and golf course architecture for Miller, Wihry and Lee.

W E G M A N
D E S I G N
G R O U P

HIDEAWAY BEACH CLUB, MARCO ISLAND

loren@wegmandesigngroup.com

wegmandesigngroup.com

239.596.8551